Pind Daan Tour Package 2025

(7 Sept, 2025 – Sun, 21 Sept, 2025)

It is said in Hindu Culture that after death, soul of human being still remain in this materialistic world. Just because of the loss of body (due to death) someone cannot detach himself / herself from this world. The pull of Love, kindness, affection for his / her family, friends, relatives etc and the affinity for the materialistic world prevent him to go for the extreme and ultimate departure. As a result, being a bodiless state that person (without body) gets pain. He wants to do many things but cannot. They cannot or even do not want to make themselves free from this materialistic world. 'PINDA DAAN' according to Hindu Belief Gives them an ultimate relief and paves the way for their departure to the ultimate world of Peace. Pind daan is considered to be a mandatory rite believed to bring salvation to the departed souls. An obligation of all Devout Hindus.

The Gaya Mahatamya mentions the legend of a great demon Gayasur who performed harsh penance for thousand years. The gods, came to him and asked what reward he wanted for his piety. The demon said that he wished to be the holiest of all things and that all he saw or touched would go to heaven. Yama, the god of hell, and the gods failed to lay the demon at rest. In the end Vishnu was called in and he struck Gaya Asur with his club and released him from his fatigue and pain. As a last boon the demon asked that the gods should abide for all time on his body, and that the place would be considered the holiest of spots within the limits of which all men might obtain salvation by offering Shraddha (oblations) to their ancestors. His prayer was granted and his body became the holy ground of Gaya.

According to Ramayana, lord Rama came to Gaya along with his wife Sita to perform the holy rites in remembrance of his deceased father king Dasaratha. He came during the fortnight long period just before Durga puja known as Pitrapaksha. After an altercation with the river Falgu Sita cursed the river and the Falgu was banished underground and became a vast stretch of sand dunes.

Gaya is equally important for Buddhists as this was the place where Lord Buddha preached the Fire Sermon i.e. Adittapariyaya Sutta to around 1000 agriculture workers who were fire-worshippers. The influence of Buddha's discourse was so enormous that all of them converted to Buddhism.
